GOES UNIDENTIFIED TO HIS GRAVE,

John G. Armstrong, Ex-Sergeant Apparent Wish of St. Louis County Suicide Seems Certain of Fulfillment.

ONCE DID DETECTIVE DUTY. NOT ONE GOOD CLEW FOUND.

Manner of Death Decidedly Out of Ordinary-Body to Be Buried To-Day at Public Expense.

Mystery still surrounds the sulcide which Police, died at his here, No. 202 Nebracka | took place last Thursday at the junction of the St. Charles Rock and the Edmonton reads, St. Louis County. All efforts to iden amediate cause of death, although his lify the body have failed and it will be interred to-day at the expense of the county The circumstances surrounding this suicide the unusual in the extreme. In the first ty-six years ago. He was one of the finest place the man met death, not shut up in a specimens of physical manhood on the room or hidden in a sequestered and shutled force in his prime, and his courage was nook, as is usually chosen by these who unquestioned. He proved to be one of the take their lives out of doors, but in a cornmost efficient officers in the department. field and near a public highway. Then, nonof the man's clothes were marked, even with mitials; he bore no letters nor cards; and the only clews giving any address were t pocket mirror and a prescription. Both these were stamped "Chicago," and on the latter was printed "Doctor T. A. Noble, 15310 Columbin avenue."

Neither of these addresses developed any thing. The mirror proved to be but an advertisement given away by a firm of retail hatters and clothlers in State street, Chiedgo, and Doctor Noble said that he could temember to such mun as the St. Louis County saicide was described to be.

The body was first found by August Kloss in his cornfield. He heard somebody groun-ing and went to see what the trouble was. The strange man was then at the point of death, and he speke no word before disco-

Doctor Amestrong, Coroner of St. Louis County, was summoned and an inquest was held. Peath was pronounced due to carbolle acid poisoning. The body was then moved to the undertaking rooms of Parke Bros., in Nebster Grover, and has since rested there

The clothes of the man and his general appearance led to the belief that he was a minister. From descriptions in the papers Doctor Voxel of the City Dispensary thought that the corpse was that of Edward Martin, whom he sent from the Dispensary to the City Hospital on April 7. But this Martin is involved in as much mystery as to his home and business m is the suitable. It was sup-posed be came from the Globs Hotel, No. 112 North Sixth street, but here he was simply registered as "Martin" and was not remeta-

A second theory seems without foundation.

A telegram from the Chicago Chief of Police said that the schede was believed to be J. S. Beech of that city. But J. S. Beech was said to have had a large mole and wart on the back of his neck. These marks were not noticeable on the suicide. He was also said to be 5 feet 7 inches tall, whereas the last to be 5 feet 7 inches tall, whereas the sui-ble was 5 feet 10 inches in height. Every-thing seemed to indicate that the unknown man in committing suicide tried like heat to avoid leaving a clew to his identity.

Yard at 9 o'clock tals morning en route for the New England Coast, where her official speed trial will be made.

The original intention was to leave the ship yard on Thursday, the 19th, but the intense heat of the past week delayed coaling and other preparations to such an extent that the departure of the ship was necessarily postponed till to-day.

The Varing is expected to reach Roston to-morrow morning. Thence she will go to the trial course, near Roon Island, off the New Hampshire Coast. This trial course is a measured ten index and will be used to determine the number of revolutions of the ship's propellers necessary to drive her the contract speed in deep water. Having determined this, which is known as standardizing the screws, she will then run directly out to sea, where she will perform the required runs of six hours each. If the weather is favorable throughout, the Variag should return to Cramp's Ship Yard about the last of July.

Among the prominent Russlana are Captain E. N. Stehenmovitch, president of the Inspection Board; Captain V. O. Behr, captain of the Variag; Captain V. O. Behr, captain of the Variag; Captain V. W. Chinese War Used to Boost Stocks on Two Different Lines of Argument.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

New York, July 22.—Despite a variety of unfavorable developments, stocks showed strength during the week lost ended, and ther increase in Wall street's bullfah sentiment. Professional manipulation was very largely responsible for the market's mivance, but it was also evident that the munipulation was so successful because it induced considerable enthusiastic buying by the rank and file of Wall street's regular speculators. There were no fedications of a revival of public interest in the market, and in only a few stocks were there appearances of inside buying. None the less, many specialties were buoyant, and the general stock list was strong to a degree that was surprising to conservative inencial interests.

Free and easy disregard for disquieting owa has been shown in many ways of late, and is indicative of Wall erreet's present temper. It was remarkable last week that the Stock Exchange should persistently refuse to consider as important any developments of an encouraging character, Alarming rumors from China, war preparations in Europe, the fall of British consels and the sharp advance in the Bank of Engmoney probabilities, decreased railroad earnmake much impression upon the stock mar-

But when good news came it was accepted without waiting for confirmation, and bullish entinuciasm ran riet among the trad-ers. Moreover, some stocks were pushed up because the participation of the United States in the Chinese trouble would mean larger eatmors for them, while the general market was bring advanced because the United States would not be entangled. All of this would seem to indicate the artificial character of the upward movement and the situator foundation for it.

Although Wall street in general is refusing to consider the possibilities of higher memory.

Real Estate Agent McCann's First, Sunday in Workhouse.

John J. McCann, the man who submitted to a fifty days' incarceration in the Workhouse "on principle," passed the first Sunday of his imprisonment holding a general day of his imprisonment holding a general reception. In the morning the office of the institution was crowided with a party of more than sixty members of the Single-Tax League, who came to see the prisoner. Many brought with them their wives and children. All came out on wagons.

Mr. McCann met the large delegation, but would not stay with them long. He said he arpreciated the interest shown in his case by friends and sympathizers, but so large a party interfered with the disciplines of his prison, and this he felt that he must not disturb, as he was shown many courtesies by Superintendent Kempf.
